WARD OWNED BY POLSTER

MOORE DEMOCRATS EXPECT UN-FAIRNESS IN SIXTH.

Maguire Told Wolsiffer That After Saturday There Will Be No Moore Men.

Mr. Charles Maguire, machine candidate for the Democratic nomination for mayor, has again undertaken to enlighten the public on a few points which were heretofore only matters of conjecture. In looking over the Fifteenth ward, Maguire happened to run across John Wolsiffer, the Democratic candidate in that ward for councilman. "How are things down here, Wolsiffer?" asked Maguire.

"Well, if you want the truth," replied Wolsiffer, "it looks to me like Moore would get nearly everything in sight." "It may be that way now," said Maguire, "but after next Saturday night Moore Democrats will be hard to find."

Moore's supporters say that the statement of Mr. Maguire is proof positive that next Saturday night has been fixed upon as the time for the machine pay car to move. It is also evidence, they say, that Moore is not to be given a fair deal at the primaries. The sentiment of an entire ward, they maintain, cannot be changed in a single night, without trickery is resorted to.

The Moore managers said, yesterday, that they expected to get a "raw deal" in the Sixth ward, which Charles Polster claims to carry in his pocket. It is said Sixth ward for Moore and that rumors of this unpleasant truth having reached the referred to by the book, and the attention ears of Fanning, Polster was sent for to explain why such things were allowed to be. Polster is said to have replied, "It don't make any difference about who the voters want, it is what I say about it." The statement of Polster is said to have been very satisfactory to Fanning and the rest of the city committee

The friends of Henry C. Cox, candidate for the nomination for police judge, said yesterday that Mr. Cox intended to bring mandamus proceedings against the Democratic Board of Primary Election Commissioners to compel it to put his name in the first on the ticket, which is now occupied by the name of Edward W. Little. Cox | Assembly and should be cast out of this maintains that he has positive proof that his petition was filed at least two days before that of Little. This assertion of Cox's is supported by the statement of Chairman Fanning, who, on the night that the ticket was arranged by the primary election commissioners, said that the petition of Little had been filed only the day before. Cox's petition was filed three days before the ticket was arranged. When asked about the matter yesterday Little said that he understood that his name had been filed with the chairman three weeks ago by a friend, who had taken the liberty without his knowledge. When told of the statement of Fanning, Little appeared somewhat nonplussed, but had nothing more to say.

Some time ago, when it became known that William C. Daly would not be a candidate for renomination for the office of police judge, it was said that the duties of the office had become distasteful to him. The real reason for his declining to go into the race is said to be that he was forced out because he would not do the bidding of the machine. "Judge Day is too honest for them."

Organized Labor Lobby Issues a "Blue Book" Regarding the Last Legislature.

From present indications the parade on Labor day will go off smoothly, the dif-'The executive board of the Musicians' Union adopted the following resolution: 'Application has been made to this association for the Newsboys' Band and the colored band to turn out in the Labor day parade. It was ordered that the secretary of this association notify the general committee of Labor day that if the general committee sees fit to allow nonunion music in the Labor day parade this association will abide by its decision, provided said decision is filed with the secretary of the Indianapolis Musicians' Protective Association before Sept. 1, 1901, at 9 a. m., said decision to be in writing signed by the president and secretary of the general Labor day committee."

So far as the official action of the general committee is concerned it has already decided that the colored band will be alowed to parade with the Hod Carrier's Union, and that the Newsboys' Band may march with the Typographical Union. The musicians are only now asking this concession to protect them against the national organization should complaint be made to that body that the local union marched in a parade with nonunion musicians. UNION LABOR BLUE BOOK.

Members of the Legislature Attacked in Bitter Terms.

The labor lobby in the last Legislature has just issued a "blue book" relating to members of the General Asembly charged with being unfair to organized labor. The book is addressed to wage-workers and contains information relating to all law enactments favorable or against organized labor. The Senate, in particular, is attacked, that body being charged with being more inimical to the interests of organized labor than the House. The senators who are charged with assisting in the defeat of labor measures are: Conlogue, Fleming, Whitcomb, Parks, Keyes, Kell, Keeney, Joss, Ogborn, Johnson of Jay county, Guthrie, Goodwine, Dausman, Crumpacker, Binkley, Wolcott, Wood and Brooks. Those accredited with being favorable to labor measures are Senators Ball, Burns, Fortune, Gwinn, Harrison, Winfield, Wampler, Inman, Heller and

The book, speaking of the House, says: "The House, from speaker down, were, in most instances, friendly and favorable to labor measures. Those deserving of special mention as being favorable to us are Artman, Burkhart, Burrler, Catley, Clark. Hersfield, Jakways, Kirkman, Van Fleet and Mummert." The book says that the committee was largely responsible for the defeat of the Agnew anti-trust bill, which was considered unfair to organized labor and termed "a bill that would wipe out all organizations of labor." The Merchants' and Grocers' Association of Indiana is also f laboring men is called to that organization's garnishee and exemption bills, both of which were defeated, and speaks of the association thus: "We found a large deleall kinds of money to secure these measures, who remained until March 8, only to find their bills smothered by our efforts.' There will be contests for prizes in more than a dozen classes of cattle at the fair next month, which will give every cattle raiser a class for his animals, and I expect to see the barns filled with fine live stock.

"There will be two new classes this year, both of them limited to cattle owned in Indiana. The two classes are rather a division of one old class. The shorthorns will have a class to themselves, and the Durhams, which have had to compete with the shorthorns in former years, will be in another class. In addition to the prizes the State Board of Agriculture will offer, each prize will be duplicated by the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association, and these special premiums will stimulate interest among the exhibitors."

The industrial city will, it is asserted, be pushed forward with more vigor than ever before

OTHER CLERKS ARE WRONG.

Marriage Licenses Issued Illegally i Many Counties.

The attorney general's recent opinion on the Jeffersonville "Gretna Green," or marriage industry, has provoked a great deal of discussion, and the statement is being made that clerks in other counties besides Clark are issuing marriage licenses to persons that come within the inhibition of Mr. Taylor's opinion. It is said that most of the county clerks of the State issue licenses to women who are not residents of Deputy Attorney General Moores thinks the marriage law should be amended, and one of the changes he suggests is that the statistical information required now to be furnished the county clerk by the officiating minister or magistrate be supplied by the contracting persons at the time they apply for the license. Weather Talks.

The farmers who spoke so despondently of the outlook ten days ago, said more hopefully yesterday: "Yes, the rain will give us a half-crop of corn, and it will cause the pastures to spring up, so that we may yet be moderately happy. FIFTEENTH-WARD SEWERS.

Mass Meeting Held and Resolution of Protest Adopted.

About seventy-five residents of the Fifteenth ward attended the mass meeting in Lyra Hall, Meridian and Kansas streets, last night, to discuss the condition of the sewers in that locality. Another meeting will be held in two weeks, at which time final arrangements will be made to present the matter to the board.

The Wisconsin and Morris-street sewers are both in bad condition, and the openings into the main sewer are said to be too small to allow the water and refuse from the street to pass. When the openings become clogged the water backs into the street and the stench is said to be sickening. The resolution to be presented to the Board of Works will demand that the mair sewer be extended 5,000 feet, and that it shall empty into the main channel of the river. The main sewer now empties into an open space, and a pool of filthy water is left standing, which endangers the health of the people in that community Dr. Goar said last night that the stench from the Wisconsin and Morris-street sewers has been so bad at times that it was necessary for him to close the windows and doors of his office. Charles E. The director general was, however, away from the city, and Colonel Wilson could only make conditional arrangements. He said that "Doc" Waddell, formerly press agent of Bostock's Zoo in this city, now "general" press agent of the Indian village at the Pan-American Exposition, extended the Governor, his staff and all who might come to Buffalo with them a cordial invitation to attend a special performance in the "village" at 5 o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday, Sept. 14. Letters were received at the Governor' office yesterday from Waddell and F. T Cummings, general manager of the Indian village, addressed to "Gen. Winfield T Durbin, Governor of Indiana, Honored and Respected Sir," renewing the invitations previously extended. Colonel Wilson said that the gubernatorial party would doubtless attend the performance.
